

Name: _____ Date: _____

Barometric Pressure Log

Observe your barometer for the next two weeks. Record your data and predictions below.

Week 1

Date	Direction Barometric Needle is Pointing	Indicates High or Low pressure	Actual Barometric Pressure	Weather Predictions	Actual Weather Conditions

Week 2

Date	Direction Barometric Needle is Pointing	Indicates High or Low pressure	Barometric Pressure	Weather Predictions	Actual Weather Conditions

Summary Questions — Predicting the Weather

Review your data. Did your barometer predict any weather changes? Did it predict anything else? Describe any trends that you see. Write your responses on a separate sheet of paper and attach it to this one. Remember to use information from your data to support your ideas.