Instructions: Fill in the first column with five attributes your group agrees are absolutely necessary for your concept solution. Then go across each row and draw five pictures of possible examples of that attribute. You must color all of your drawings and you may not use any words. When each box is filled in, use a circle to highlight one attribute from each row representing your first proposed solution. Use a triangle and square to identify your second and third proposed solutions. Then write down three proposed concepts by including one idea from each attribute.
